

Constituent,

I don't like to lie to you.
So I told you about the stars
tripping over the moon.
Just twice.

About that piece of gum
in your pocket.
A memory of my lips.

Those leaves on the ground.
Are a message to God.
Are on fire.

At least pretend.